

An amusing response was registered at the opening of another show in Cambridge — “Jason-Medea,” at the Caravan Theater, 1555 Mass. av. Last Friday and Saturday members of the audience traded various valuables for tickets. The items included a vacuum cleaner, paintings, the vertebrae of a squid—and, most suitable of all, the perfect headline-making contribution: Woman (Joan Blair of Cambridge) Exchanges Armchair for Seat.